STEWARDSHIP

- There is a difference between living righteously and living selfishly when it comes to your finances.
 - Stewardship plays a role in determining which way you live.
 - A good steward recognizes the gifts given as if they were on loan, takes charge of them and makes good come from those gifts.
 - Good stewardship includes helping causes and those who are less fortunate.
- Stewardship is a tool that brings you into the framework of blessability.
 - Through the stewardship of words, you can take captive of your thoughts.
 - Steward your mind to create a gateway for the pluses and minuses that come into it.
 - Look at yourself spiritually, emotionally, mentally, physically, and financially: steward the resources on loan to you, especially your money, body and words.
